

Specialist Hearing Service for Adults with Learning Disabilities

Our service is a specialist service for adults with a learning disability.

How can the learning disability team help?

- We have a dedicated and skilled team to see individuals with complex and specific needs
- We are able to offer a service within the community and within people's homes
- We are able to provide a range of both subjective and objective testing
- We are experienced in adapting our techniques to meet people's needs
- Our techniques aim to establish frequency specific information to help highlight a hearing loss more accurately

How does this benefit our service users?

- "The service I got was the best I have ever had for 30 years. My hearing aids are so good now I can even hear cars and aeroplanes"
- "I thought it was fantastic. The staff were really nice. I like go to your service."
- "They explained the different things that could help me. They were really helpful"

For more information, or to make a referral contact: Kara Kerr, Hearing Therapist on 0121 424 3154 or email: kara.kerr@heartofengland.nhs.uk www.heartlandshearingcentre.co.uk